

Call for Applications

One-year and Short-term Grants for Doctoral Candidates

State Graduate Scholarships (LGF)

The University of Mannheim is pleased to be able to invite students working on their doctorate to submit applications for doctoral scholarships with a duration of up to 12 months (one-year grants) or rather with a duration of up to 6 months (short-term grants) funded by the state of Baden-Württemberg (“Landesgraduiertenförderung”, LGF).

The fellowships are awarded to applicants who ideally can offer the prospect of funding subsequent to the fellowship until the expected completion of the doctorate, e.g. through a position at a chair or in a third-party funded project (one-year and starting/bridging grants) or who will complete their doctoral projects within the funding period applied for (completion grants).

Entitled to apply: Doctoral students officially accepted for a doctorate at a school/department of the University of Mannheim, regardless of whether they are doing their doctorate at a chair or in a structured doctoral program.

Application deadline: 18 November 2022

Funding period: Up to 6 months/up to 12 months. | Start of funding: 1 January 2023 (or later). End of funding: 31 December 2023 at the latest.

The extension of a one-year or a starting/bridging grant is possible if efforts to obtain funding elsewhere were unsuccessful and the progress of the doctoral project since the last grant is clearly evident (appropriate evidence must be submitted).

The funding ends at the latest at the end of the month in which the disputation/oral defense takes place.

Funding up to the disputation/oral defense is possible provided that your dissertation has not yet been submitted at the time of application.

Funding conditions: According to the implemented standards of LGF (Satzung der Universität Mannheim zur Durchführung des Landesgraduiertenförderungsgesetzes).

Scholarship amount: Euro 1.365,- per month
