

Course Content:Academic Writing and Publishing (Instructor: Benjamin Hilbig)

This course provides guidance, tools, and skills for/in English academic writing. The focus will be on writing and publishing articles in psychological journals. Important general techniques for writing will be discussed (and practiced in the form of exercises and writing assignments). Publication strategies, issues of journal selection, how to deal with reviews, and the usual “paperwork” (cover letter, revision letter etc.) will also be covered.
