I really like the international, open-minded, and proactive vibe of the University of Mannheim. It is a pleasure to attend the insightful and high-quality courses of the professors and their teams. I am also grateful to various departments and students' initiatives for their attentive work and the activities they organized, which enabled me to integrate and enjoy the student life here so soon after arriving. Last but not least, in this environment, I had the fortune to meet quite some really lovely and sparkling people and to spend this precious time with them. This exchange experience is a worthwhile journey.

Inventions That Changed the World

Mannheim's spirit has not changed since then ...

First bicycle was invented in Mannheim: Karl Drais, 1817

First motor vehicle was invented in Mannheim: Carl Benz, 1886

... Innovations keep playing a major role in Mannheim (NEXT start-up scene). In addition, the University of Mannheim offers numerous student initiatives, research labs (e.g., MCEI DesignLAB or Enactus InnoLab) and business courses in this context.

I really love the environment of the University of Mannheim, the inclusive and international vibe of the school, the supportive and considerate system from lecturers, departments to the students, as well as the academic subjects here (the lectures here are amazing!) and of course the sports program provided to take care of the students physically.

We look forward to getting to know you!
