The School of Social Sciences, Department of Political Science at the University of Mannheim, invites applications for the position of an

Interim Professor in Political Science (W2)

The position is temporary from 01 January 2019 until 31 August 2020.

The University of Mannheim is looking for an excellent scholar in the field of comparative politics/international relations. The appointment requirements are determined by § 47 LHG of the State of Baden-Württemberg. A candidate must have a university doctoral degree, commitment to excellence in teaching and research, documented by international publications in scholarly journals. The candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses.

The University of Mannheim offers an excellent international research environment, with the Graduate School of Economic and Social Sciences (GESS), the Mannheim Centre for European Social Research (MZES), and the Collaborative Research Centre SFB 884 on “Political Economy of Reforms” at its centre. The candidate is expected to play an active role in the further development of these centres.

The University of Mannheim places great emphasis on the training and mentoring of students and therefore expects the ability to teach in English. The University seeks to increase the number of women in research and teaching and thus strongly and explicitly encourages qualified female scholars to apply. Applicants with disabilities are treated with preference given comparable qualification.

For further information please contact Prof. Dr. Harald Schoen, speaker of the Department of Political Science, harald.schoen@uni-mannheim.de.

Please submit your application by 31 October 2018 in electronic form as PDF files by e-mail to uta.hylla@sowi.uni-mannheim.de or by Post. Your application should include: a cover letter; CV incl. a list of publications; certificates and records and two most recent teaching evaluations.
