

The School of Social Sciences at the University of Mannheim invites applications for a faculty position at the rank of

with a specialization in the areas of Migration and Integration at the earliest possible date.

We seek a social scientist with a distinguished record of research in the areas of Migration and Integration. The successful candidate is expected to advance an innovative research agenda and should be committed to attracting extramural research grants. The position is embedded within the Mannheim Center for European Social Research (MZES) and the recently established Center for Research on Integration and Migration (DeZIM) in Berlin. Candidates are expected to be committed to teaching in the School's degree programs in sociology, including the Graduate School of Economic and Social Sciences (GESS). Applicants must have a track record of excellent scholarship and teaching effectiveness in sociology.

The appointment requirements are determined by § 47 LHG of the State of Baden-Wuerttemberg. A candidate must have a first university and doctoral degree, and an outstanding publication portfolio.

The University of Mannheim places great emphasis on the training and mentoring of students and therefore expects full-time presence of its faculty. The successful candidate is therefore expected to move to Mannheim or the larger metropolitan area.

The University of Mannheim is an equal opportunity employer. Candidates with disabilities will be given preference in case of equal qualifications. The University of Mannheim seeks to increase the percentage of its female faculty members in research and teaching. Thus, qualified women are especially encouraged to apply.
